Buy and resell

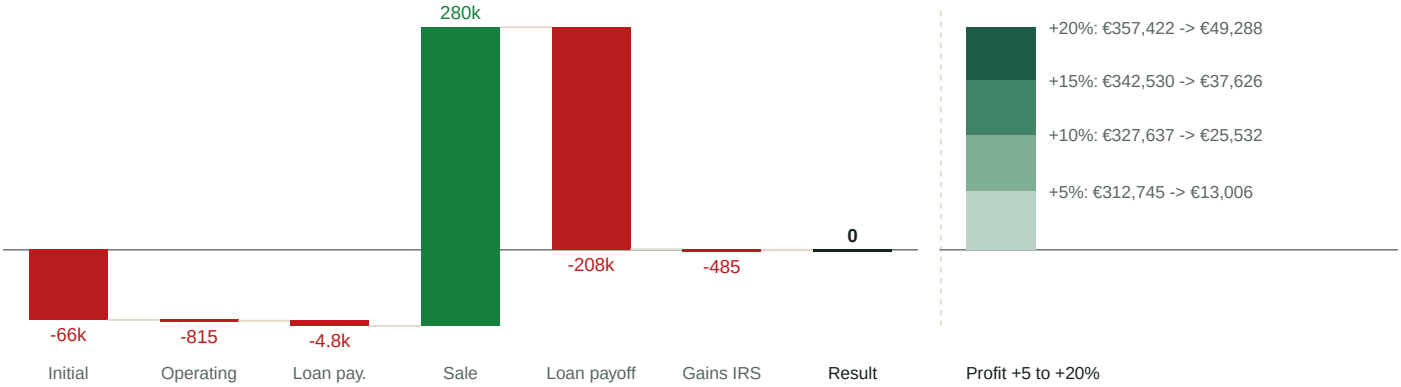

Sale price and profit

The lowest sale price without a loss, after all purchase costs, works, holding costs, selling commission and taxes. Above it, it shows how much you earn at each 5 % step.

Lowest sale price without a loss
€297,852

Profit at the price you entered (€320,000)
€19,154

From the initial payment to zero, selling at the lowest price without a loss (€297,852)

Gains IRS: €485. Selling for €297,852, the gain is €7,764 (sale minus commission, price, IMT, stamp duty, deed and works; IMI, condominium, insurance and interest are not deducted). Only 50% of it, €3,882, is taxed: 12.5% (bracket 1) on €3,882. Other taxable income blank or zero: with a salary or pension, the rate would be higher.

IRS on the capital gain

Selling for €320,000

Sale price	€320,000
Agency commission (5% + VAT)	-€19,680
Purchase price	-€260,000
IMT, stamp duty and deed	-€11,770
Capital gain	€28,550
Taxed share (50% of the gain)	€14,275
IRS on the capital gain	€2,118

Only 50% of the gain (€14,275) is taxed: it is added to your other taxable income (€0) and pays IRS at the brackets it falls in: 12.5% (bracket 1) on €8,059, 16% (bracket 2) on €4,101, 21.5% (bracket 3) on €2,115.

IMI, condominium, insurance and interest are not deducted from the gain: that is why you can pay this tax even when the deal barely makes a profit.

Your other taxable income counts as €0 (the field is blank or zero), so the gain starts in the lowest bracket. If you have a salary or pension, enter your annual taxable income under taxes: the gain falls in higher brackets and the tax goes up.

Warnings

• Tax value (VPT) unknown: IMI was calculated on the purchase price, which may overstate it.

Long-term rental

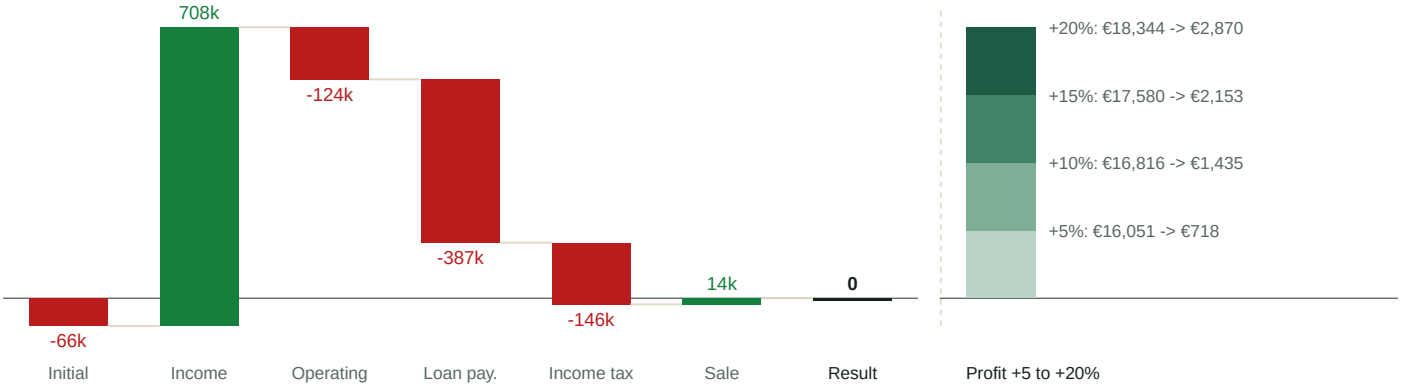

Sale price and profit

The rental is kept for good; here a sale after 40 years is assumed. It shows the lowest price without a loss, counting the rent received, and how much you earn above it.

Lowest sale price without a loss
€15,287

Profit at the price you entered (€275,000)
€243,741

From the initial payment to zero, selling at the lowest price without a loss (€15,287)

Warnings

- Tax value (VPT) unknown: IMI was calculated on the purchase price, which may overstate it.
- Monthly cash flow is negative: you will need to cover the difference every month.

Short-term rental (AL)

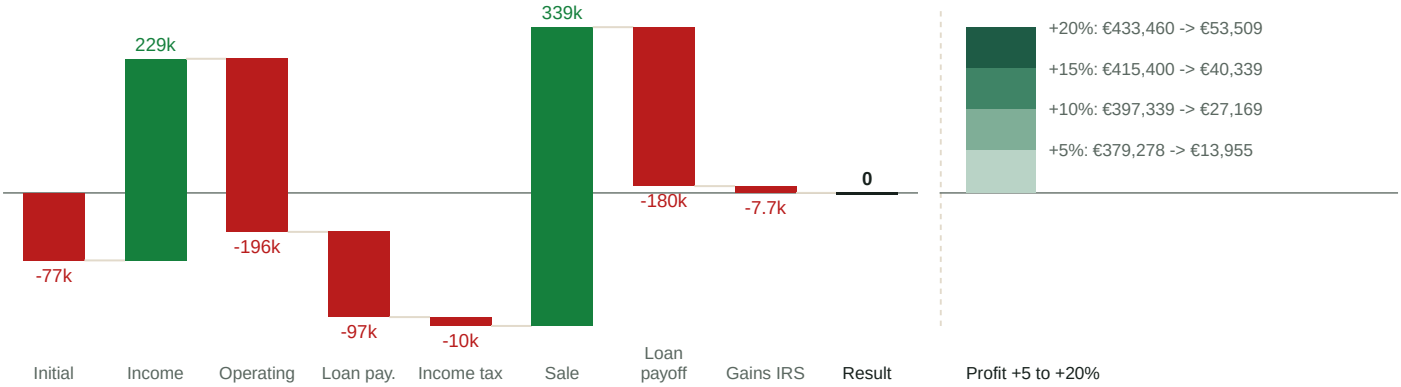

Sale price and profit

The lowest price you can sell for at the end of the short-term rental period without a loss, counting what the rental earned. Above it, it shows how much you earn at each 5 % step.

Lowest sale price at the end of the rental
€361,217

Profit at the price you entered (€275,000)
-€73,188

From the initial payment to zero, selling at the lowest price without a loss (€361,217)

Gains IRS: €7,726. Selling for €361,217, the gain is €67,232 (sale minus commission, price, IMT, stamp duty, deed and works; IMI, condominium, insurance and interest are not deducted). Only 50% of it, €33,616, is taxed: 12.5% (bracket 1) on €8,059, 16% (bracket 2) on €4,101, 21.5% (bracket 3) on €5,073, 24.4% (bracket 4) on €5,073, 31.4% (bracket 5) on €6,094, 34.9% (bracket 6) on €5,216. Other taxable income blank or zero: with a salary or pension, the rate would be higher.
